

Rear Admiral Chauncey Thomas.

Rear Admiral Chauncey Thomas, U. S. N., who was commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet when he retired in 1912, died in Pacific Grove, Cal., on Monday. He was 69 years old. He was ranked third in the class of 1871 on his graduation at Annapolis.

The New York Times

Published: May 16, 1919

Copyright © The New York Times